The Latest News!

Meet Madison!

Rescues come to us for lots of different reasons and from many different situations. Madison was a stray found off of North Capitol Street in N.W. Washington D.C. How she survived the cold weather and not getting hit by a car is miraculous, but thankfully a good samaritan found her and contacted us. She was heavily matted and had to be shaved down but remarkably & surprisingly, she was in fairly excellent health. The veterinarians that cared for her estimated her to only be about 2-3 years old. She was updated on vaccines and she will be spayed very soon. Meanwhile, she has found her way into her loving forever home where she will never need to worry about being lost on busy streets ever again. Your support & donations make it possible to give every dog that comes our way the care they deserve! Thank you!

Did You Know? Dogs have sensitive paw pads that become vulnerable in the heat. Pavement, asphalt & artificial grass can become searingly hot causing blisters or burns on their paw pads. Hot pavement can also increase the overall body temperature of your pet & lead to heat stroke. If the outside temperature is a comfortable 77 degrees, driveways and roads can still reach 125 degrees Fahrenheit. At 87 degrees a blazing 143 degrees can be reached on the asphalt's surface. A good rule of thumb to follow is the 7-second rule: if you can press the back of your hand against the ground for 7 seconds, it's safe for your dog to walk upon. Keeping walks to natural grass in the morning or evening hours is typically a safer option for those adorable toe beans.
